

Dr. Adela Gjorgjioska is a social scientist, with a doctoral degree in Social Psychology and MA degrees in International Development Management and Conflict Studies. Her research interests include the international political economy of the BRI and the governance of AI. She is a non-resident researcher at the China CEEC institute in Budapest and Lecturer in Political and Environmental Communication at the Institute for communication studies in Skopje. She is founder and director of Arete - Institute for Sustainable Prosperity.